

45 Years Before the Public.
THE GENUINE
Dr. C. McLANE'S
LIVER PILLS

are not recommended as a remedy for all the ills that flesh is heir to, but in affections of the liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia, and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.

ACQUE AND FEVER.

No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking quinine.

As a simple purgative they are unequalled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar-coated.

Each box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression, McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

Each wrapper bears the signature of Dr. C. McLane and Fleming Bros.

Insist upon having the genuine. The name McLane is spelled differently but the market being full of imitations of this name, be careful.

FRIDAY, APRIL 23, 1880.

Our readers are aware that the city council has provided for an election to be held to-morrow, at which the qualified voters of the city are to vote for or against the issuance of one hundred thousand dollars of bonds, from the proceeds of which waterworks are to be constructed. Very little has been said upon the subject, either through the press or otherwise, so far as we know. A general apathy prevails upon the subject. This ought not to be. It involves a public improvement that every one would be glad to see constructed. It also involves the creation of a large bonded debt, which, as honest people, we must pay if it is contracted. Consequently, there should be a full expression of public sentiment at the polls, provided the election is not postponed, as has been spoken of. Every tax payer and voter in the city should record his vote either for or against the proposition. It is the duty of voters to post themselves on this question in all its bearings and to vote intelligently. They should know if the bonds are to be issued with proper safe-guards. They should see if the ordinance prevents the sale of bonds below par, and that they are to be controlled by men of business capacity and integrity. With proper management, it is the opinion of many that we could have had waterworks over a year ago, but we have not, and the city's indebtedness has been increased by the blunders attending the attempt. We do not want a repetition of these blunders. We want water works, and will do anything reasonable to secure their construction, but we can not afford to blindly incur a large addition to our bonded debt, unless we are assured that the bonds can be sold without a heavy discount, and unless we know that the proceeds of their sale will be judiciously expended. Voters of Knoxville, upon whom the responsibility is thrown, should investigate these things and assume the responsibility of what is done.

When politics descend into nothing more than a personal scramble for office they are degrading, and decent men have no heart to engage in public affairs. When political meetings are managed and manipulated in the interest of particular individuals, and all are read out of the party who do not fall down and worship the leaders of particular factions, then discord will take the place where harmony ought to exist, and defeat is only a question of time. When such things are eliminated from politics, we will witness no such scenes as were enacted at the Atlanta republican convention, as reported in our dispatches. If men, and not principles, are the objects of devotion, discord may be expected.

AFTER the unusually warm winter through which we have passed, there are divers predictions that we will have a great deal of sickness during the summer. We trust these predictions will never prove true, but it will do no harm to set our houses in order. Now is the time for us to clean up our premises. If you have sinks and drains, look after them and see that they emit no poisonous gases to bring contagion into your household. Cleanliness is always a good thing, and now is a good time to begin cleaning up.

The republicans of Marshall county appointed David Logan, M. C. West, W. D. McClure and W. Pillow delegates to the Nashville convention, and passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the delegates from Marshall county are hereby instructed to cast the vote of the county in the state convention for U. E. Grant for president and Hon. Horace Maynard for vice president.

Resolved, That Hon. A. M. Hughes is the preference of this convention for governor of the state of Tennessee.

LATE PUBLICATIONS.

The INTERNATIONAL REVIEW for May has the following table of contents:

"Studies of Primitive Peoples," by Elie Reclus, of Paris; "The English Language in America," by T. Lounsbury, of Yale College; "Open Scholarships," by J. Elliot Cabot, of Cambridge, Mass.; "The 'Skulls, Brains and Souls,' by Thos. Dwight, M. D., of Boston; "Oliver Wendell Holmes," by Ray Palmer, D. D., of New York; "Victory and Manhood," by Luigi Monti, of Naples; "The Abuse of the Ballot and its Remedy," by Hon. George W. Julian, of Indiana; "Government Machinery," by Albert S. Kidney, of New York; "Contemporary Literature," Price, 50 cents a number; $5 a year.

OPINIONS OF THE APRIL NUMBER.

"The INTERNATIONAL REVIEW is certainly the foremost American Review of the day."—Rustand Herald.

"This number is a particularly good one, so far at least as good editing can contribute to that end."—The Mercury.

"The review of the letter of Eugene Delacroix is a charming essay, which not only presents Delacroix to the reader, but touches lightly and suggestively various general questions germane to or arising out of its immediate subject."—In point of quality, this essay, or at least the six pages of it, is exquisite work."—N. Y. Nation.

The April and May numbers, to one address, postpaid, on receipt of $1.

A. S. BARNES & Co., publishers, 111 and 112 William street, New York.

In the NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW for May, ex-Judge Jere S. Black continues the very interesting series of papers on the third term question begun in the February number. His article is entitled "Gen. Grant and Strong Government," and its purpose is to show, first, that the limitation of tenure of office in the presidency to two terms is a fundamental principle of our republican form of government; and, secondly, that not only does disregard of that principle threaten the permanency of republican institutions, but that Grant's third candidacy is actually a plot to revolutionize the republic and introduce monarchy. Mr. Leslie Stephens writes of "the religion of all sensible men," and speculates on the prospect of that religion displacing the present creeds of the multitude. "The creed of the future," he says, "must be capable of assimilating modern scientific theories. George Ticknor Curtis continues his series of articles on "McClintock's last service to the republic." These papers are especially valuable on account of the large number of hitherto unpublished documents which they contain. Mr. Francis H. Underwood contributes an essay on R. W. Emerson and his writings; and an anonymous writer labors to show that the United States government can not, consistently with the Monroe doctrine, permit the construction of an American isthmian canal, unless the same shall be controlled solely by citizens of the United States.

The Review is sold by booksellers and newsmen generally.

Proprietors of Norway," "Bush Life in Queensland," part V, "The Afghan War: Passages from the Note Book of a Staff Officer," part II, "Eleanor: a Tale of Non-Performers," "The Prince Consort," "The Crisis Abroad," "The Appeal to the Country." The reader having greeted his old friends "Reata," "John West" and the "Staff Officer," and devoted a few minutes to the contemplation of the lovely "Eleanor," can not fail to be struck with the political tendency of the other articles. One is devoted to an examination of the standard of morality set up by the radicals. Another discusses the dissolution of parliament, the issues at stake, and the spirit in which they are contested. A third describes the positions of the nations of Europe at the present time and the importance and influence of England. The review of the last volume of the "Life of the Prince Consort" gives his views on the politics of Europe and the relations of England with the continental powers, though there are some pictures of home life given also; and the pleasant proprietary system of Norway is statistically and uninvitingly described as a warning to England against reformers who would subvert her land.

The periodicals reprinted by the Leonard Scott Publishing Company (41 Barclay street, N. Y.) are as follows: The London Quarterly, Edinburgh, Westminster, and British Quarterly Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine. Price, $4 a year for any one, or only $15 for all, and the postage is prepaid by the publishers.

Republican State Convention.

OFFICE STATE REP. EX. COM., NASHVILLE, TENN., Feb. 6, 1880.

A Convention of Republicans of Tennessee will be held at Nashville, in the hall of the House of Representatives, at 12 o'clock, m., on May 5th, next, for the purpose of naming a candidate for Governor of Tennessee, and to select twenty-four delegates to attend the National Republican Convention, which meets at Chicago, Ill., on June 24. Also, to transact such other business as may come before it.

The ratio of representation in our State Convention will be one delegate from each county in the State, and one additional delegate from each county for every two hundred votes, or fractional part of two hundred over one hundred, cast for the Republican candidates for Electors in 1876.

JOSEPH R. DILLIN, Chairman State Rep. Ex. Com.
